Dear Mr. Burke:

Admiral Turner has asked me to thank you for your letter of 18 October, and for your very kind invitation for him to address the Rotary Club of McLean. Much as the Admiral would enjoy meeting with your club members, his schedule into the foreseeable future is so crowded that it is impossible for him to take on any additional speaking commitments.

However, we would be very happy to offer a substitute speaker should that be satisfactory. In fact, I would be delighted to speak to your club about the CIA and our new openness policy, if that is a subject you would find appealing.

Please let me know how we may assist you.

Sincerely,

SIGNED

Admiral Stansfield Turner, Director
Central Intelligence Agency

Dear Director Turner:

I am writing you in my capacity as Program Chairman of The Rotary Club of McLean. A great many of the members have requested that I invite you to address our membership during one of our weekly luncheon meetings.

While I am sure that you are accustomed to addressing much larger groups than our 40 to 50 members, it is my hope that there may be room in your schedule to visit with some neighbors right here in McLean. Our membership is diverse. The occupations represented include manufacturing, small retailers, professionals, bankers, military (both active and retired), and several other walks of life. In addition to our own members, we can always expect visitors from some of the neighboring clubs. Both members and visitors represent a wide spectrum of the Washington community and are well-informed and service-conscious individuals.

The club has always felt at least a geographic association with your agency. Our weekly newsletter, in fact, is called The McLean Spy.

Our programs have been enhanced by presentations by members of the Congress, government agencies such as NASA, Veterans Administration, etc., state and local government officials, radio and television celebrities, notables in the field of professional sports, and other community organizations. The Rotarians would consider it a singular privilege to be addressed by you.

While we do have the 29th of November and the 20th of December open on our speakers program, we would suspect that you would prefer to schedule your time much further in advance. We are just beginning to schedule programs for the months of January through June 1978.

We would be delighted to schedule our other programs around your available time. The club meets every Tuesday at 12 noon at Evans Farm Inn on Dollev Madison Boulevard. Lunch begins promptly at 12:15. and our programs usually commence at approximately 12:55 and always conclude promptly at 1:30 p.m.

Your favorable consideration of our invitation will be gratefully appreciated and we will consider your visit with us an honor.

Sincerely yours.
